Plot Premier assignment summary:
 You are in charge of graphically displaying the major events in this section of the book with a storyboard of at least four frames. The illustrations may be hand-generated, consist of magazine cut-outs or printed images, or be created using computer graphics programs (like Photoshop). Regardless of what you choose, it must accurately display what happened in the reading. You also need to describe, in one to two detailed paragraphs, the major event you chose to illustrate in each frame of the storyboard. Also, you should explain why you chose to use the illustrations you did.
