My "Life List"

Mrs. Hawke. GWHS English.

Now it's your turn to create a list of life goals – a "bucket list," it's often called. List at least 25 specific, achievable goals that you plan to meet in your lifetime. You do not have to use any of Mr. Goddard's goals, but you can if you like. The "achieved" column should be blank, since all should be goals, not past accomplishments. Use the "comments" column for specifications; for instance, if a goal includes a number of items, you could specify that you have already achieved one or more of them.
